The legal, medical and social barriers and enablers to safer PIED injecting

Friday February 16th 10:30am-4:45pm Monash Law Chambers, 555 Lonsdale St, Melbourne RSVP to attend on day RSVP here For live Online Webinar erced@alfred.org.au

The Australian Research Centre in Sex, Health and Society (ARCSHS, La Trobe University) and Social Studies of Addiction Concepts (SSAC, Curtin University) invite you to attend a full-day forum exploring issues relating to performance and image-enhancing drug (PIED) use, injecting, the law, health and the fitness industry. ARCSHS and Curtin University are co-hosting a full day forum exploring PIEDs, injecting drug use and the social, political and cultural contexts that they are embedded in. This forum has been developed in response to the rise of PIED injecting in Australia. It brings together researchers, health and community services and the fitness industry to explore some of the challenges, complexities and opportunities associated with the delivery of health information and healthcare to people who use PIEDs.
